The Ellis Martin Report – Exclusive Interview with Goldstorm Metals CEO Kenneth Konkin

Santa Monica, CA – August 25, 2025 – The Ellis Martin Report features an in-depth conversation with Kenneth Konkin, President and CEO of Goldstorm Metals Corporation (TSX-V: GSTM | OTC: GSTMF). Goldstorm Metals is a precious and base metals exploration company with significant land holdings in the Golden Triangle of British Columbia, one of the world's most prolific high-grade gold districts.

In this interview, Konkin discusses the company's flagship Crown and Electrum projects, covering approximately 16,468 hectares directly south of Seabridge Gold's world-class KSM deposits and adjacent to Newmont Corporation's Brucejack Mine. He reveals how recent snowpack ablation is exposing new mineralized outcrops—potentially expanding known target zones and creating unprecedented exploration opportunities.

Highlights from the discussion include:

- Newly exposed gold- and silver-bearing zones in historically snow-covered terrain.
- The strategic value of 100% ownership of key claims in a world-class mining jurisdiction.
- Advancements in geophysical surveys aimed at defining high-grade copper and gold targets.
- Comparisons to previous major discoveries at Treaty Creek, with potential for similar large-scale mineralization.

“It's like being Neil Armstrong on the moon every year,” says Konkin. “You're the first person in history to see what's being revealed.”

Goldstorm Metals' recent stock momentum, moving from $0.12 to $0.17 in the past month, reflects growing market awareness. Konkin emphasizes disciplined exploration, precise targeting, and readiness to drill once data confirms the most promising zones.
