These results reflect the success of our strategy to build network infrastructure in rural, regional, and remote Australia. "Throughout the course of FY21, FSG has successfully won strategic funding via a number of State and Federal Government programs", Mr Roberts said. Grants included the Federal Government's Regional Connectivity Program Round 1, totalling $27.4M, and FSG is preparing for Round 2 to be released in the coming months.

"FY21 saw the beginning of our strategy to unlock network rollout synergies by introducing new revenue streams through the addition of managed services and wholesale products and services across our network," Mr Roberts continued. We have seen strong revenue growth in our B2B, government and enterprise channels, rewarded by a six-year wholesale supply deal with MyRepublic totalling $45M."

Looking ahead to FY22, Mr Roberts said the key priority is to complete FSG's 16 committed network builds and further develop the business' wholesale, government and enterprise markets. "We look forward to deploying our next generation wireless network (FSG RAN) delivering 4G and 5G services in FY22, and we are well-positioned to explore targeted M&A that enhances our connectivity solutions for the businesses, agribusiness and residents of rural, regional and remote Australia", he said.

Overall, the group continues to execute its business plan of building, and expanding telecommunications networks in rural, regional, and remote Australia, and leveraging those assets to expand and create new revenue streams.
